

2019 Chauncey Willingham Award for Outstanding Faculty

Wanda Carter

Wanda (Bradbury) Carter came to Carroll ISD as a young math teacher in 1972. She was honored three times as Carroll High School Teacher of the Year in 1978, 1990 and 1993 and as Carroll ISD Teacher of the Year in 1991. She served as Math Department Chair for 10 years and led several student organizations over the years including Math League, Future Teachers Association and Junior Engineering Technical Society. Known for running a very tight classroom (late work was never accepted!), she is also remembered by many as an inspiring educator who was full of surprises...more than one student recalls her randomly stopping a school bus on a field trip because everyone deserved a little Dairy Queen ice cream. Although Mrs. Carter left Carroll ISD in 2002, she continues to teach as an adjunct instructor of math at Tarrant County College District. When she isn't inspiring bright minds, she can usually be found spending time with her husband of more than 34 years, Russ, their
